PREFACE

The free-floating subdivisions used in Library of Congress subject headings appear in forty separate lists in the Subject Cataloging Manual: Subject Headings. Catalogers and users of Library of Congress Subject Headings have occasionally pointed out the benefits of a single source listing all free-floating subdivisions which could serve as an index. As a result, Paul Weiss, Assistant Principal Subject Cataloger, using a database management system, compiled a single alphabetical list of all free-floating subdivisions in the manual and included additional subdivisions approved since the manual was sent for publication in September 1988.

This list should be used as an index to the manual by those who wish to assign and retrieve free-floating subdivisions.

It is expected that new editions of the list will be issued on a regular schedule.

INTRODUCTION

This list consists of all free-floating subdivisions that appear in H 1095-H 1200 and in H 1631 in the Subject Cataloging Manual: Subject Headings, 3rd edition, 1988, and serves as an index to the free-floating subdivisions in that publication. It also includes subdivisions that were added after the 3rd edition of the manual went to press in September 1988 through April 1989.

For each subdivision, a listing is provided of the free-floating lists in the manual where it appears, identified by category. For subdivisions that have specific instruction sheets in the manual describing their usage, citations to these are provided in the column labeled "Usage guidelines in SCM."

This list should be used with caution and only in conjunction with the Subject Cataloging Manual. After locating a subdivision in the list, it is usually necessary to consult the manual to determine whether there are any restrictions on its usage in specific situations. These are found in footnotes or scope notes on the free-floating lists in the manual or in an instruction sheet that provides usage guidelines. Restrictions of this type are not indicated in this list.
